To whom it may concern,

Success thrives in environments that value passion and dedication. Instead of waiting for the future, I prefer to shape it. I'm Regan McCorquindale, a self employed and self-driven Farm Supervisor and Advisor based in the Waikato.

Driven and determined to make a difference in the primary industries and to take everyday as an opportunity to be better than the day prior.

A few aspects you must know about myself and the morals that I have as an individual and an actively practicing advisor are,

- 1) Transparency - this is paramount in my role. Building the trust of well esteemed farm owners, on-farm teams and their support network has lifted my credibility within the industry. Transparency also allows all parties to be on the same page and working towards a common goal.
- 2) Honesty - This one goes a long way. I'm never afraid to mention I don't know how to do a task, or I'm out of my depth. I believe this has allowed me to learn a lot faster and be more confident in my daily job.
- 3) Discipline - I have an innate hunger to be better everyday and to grow, develop and bring people who are on the same journey, together. I have well developed goals and I have to remain disciplined to help realise these.

So what am I looking for to help shape my future?

The right people. We know life is all about having the right relationships. Both professional and personal. I strive to work with the best farmers and their respective shareholders and stakeholders. I want to be on a journey with those who see the bigger picture. Can look past the smaller administrative task that farmers are required to do nowadays and focus on building bigger, more sustainable and profitable businesses that everyone can stand back and appreciate the hard work and dedication that it has taken to deliver such an outcome.

The journey to success is often paved with innovation and collaboration. If this sounds like you, or a business you are involved with, then please get in touch. I look forward to helping shape our futures together in this exciting primary industry.

Regards,

Regan McCorquindale

PROFILE

The higher you climb, the more you see. The more you see, the less you know. The less you know, the more you learn. The more you learn, the higher you climb.

I place a lot of weight behind this saying as it reflects the journey we are on as individuals and businesses, and that no matter how high we climb there is always more that we can be doing for the betterment of ourselves, our businesses, industries and wider communities.
